FISHERIES

Manitoba Fishery Regulations, 1987, amendment, to make a number of changes recommended by Manitoba, including: setting possession quotas for unlicensed individuals to the lower possession quota established for holders of Conservation Angling Licences; adding 19 bodies of water to the schedule of High Quality Management Waters in order to protect and sustain fish stocks in those waters so that angling may continue; deleting Chocolate Lake, Silver Beach Lake and Clandeboye Ponds from the schedule of Stocked Trout Waters; updating references to the provincial Agency and Minister responsible for fisheries; adding a definition for "conservation angling licence"; revising the definition of "recreational fishing"; and consolidating requirements and prohibitions pertaining to the daily, possession, and annual quotas and size limits applicable to Angling Licence holders and to holders of Conservation Angling Licences. ### TAX CHANGES

Regulations Respecting Excise Licences and Registrations, to require certain conditions to be met to obtain and maintain a licence or registration, including age and sufficient financial resource requirements, which will provide a more comprehensive but strengthened licensing framework. The Regulations would also allow for the licensing of the applicant rather than the current requirement to licence each premise. This approach is consistent with the Canada Customs and Revenue Agency's (CCRA) initiative to provide a unique client identifier to replace the various account numbers a business was obliged to hold for GST, corporate income tax, excise tax, and excise duty. Further more, while the Minister will retain the power to cancel or suspend a licence, the criteria for exercising that power will be formalized. (Published in the Canada Gazette Part I on February 1, 2003)

Excise Act, 2001

Zone Order (Halifax, Esquimalt and Nanoose Harbours)

Passenger Information (Customs) Regulations, to bring into force the Advance Passenger Information/Passenger Name Record (API/PNR) initiative introduced in the 2000-2004 Customs Action Plan. These Regulations would provide the legal basis for the API/PNR program. Under the Regulations, commercial carriers and charterers, travel agents, and owners and operators of a reservation system are required to provide the Minister of National Revenue with, or provide access to, specific information on all passengers and crew-members en route to Canada at the time of their departure. The specific API information that must be provided for all persons on board a commercial conveyance is: full name; date of birth; gender; citizenship or nationality; type of travel document, the country of issue, and the number; and the reservation record locator number if any. Access must be provided to all PNR information relating to the person in a reservation system. Passenger information that is to be provided to the Canada Customs and Revenue Agency (CCRA) must be provided by way of a passenger manifest. The Regulations also specify that passenger information or passenger reservation information that is maintained in an electronic format must be provided to a customs officer or other representative of the Minister in that format. (Published in the Canada Gazette Part I on February 1, 2003)

(Published in the Canada Gazette Part I on February 1, 2003)

These proposed amendments will apply to applications for changes to all existing design approvals for airframes, engines or propellers. (Published in the Canada Gazette Part I on February 1, 2003)

Aeronautics Act

Regulations Amending the Motor Vehicle Safety Regulations (Snowmobiles), to update and clarify the safety requirements governing snowmobiles by incorporating a reference to the SSCC Standards and Supplement into section 1201 of Schedule VI to the MVSR, and stipulate those standards and test procedures that are obligatory. The proposed amendment also requires that the information specified on the label or plaque affixed to a snowmobile, as well as any instructions that are provided with snowmobiles, be in both French and English. This proposed amendment also repeals sections 1207, 1208 and 1209 of Schedule VI to the Regulations. Section 1207, entitled "Tie-Down" specifically addresses tie-downs on snowmobile cutters. Section 1209, entitled "Snowmobile Cutters" regulates snowmobile cutters. Section 1208 regulates snowmobile trailers. (Published in the Canada Gazette Part I on February 1, 2003)

TRANSPORTATION

Commercial Vehicle Drivers Hours of Service Regulations, to require drivers to keep a record of their daily driving other work activities in a prescribed format and to make these records available to designated enforcement officials upon request. The central changes featured in the proposed regulations include: increasing the minimum daily off-duty period by 25 percent from 8 hours to 10 hours; requiring that no fewer than 8 of the hours of off-duty time be taken consecutively, with the additional 2 hours to be taken in increments of no less than a half hour; reducing the daily maximum driving time by 18.8 percent from 16 hours to 13 hours; reducing the daily maximum on-duty time by 12.5 percent from 16 hours to 14 hours, of which no more than 13 hours can be on-duty driving time; eliminating the option to reduce the off-duty time from 8 hours to 4 hours; increasing the minimum rest period for co-drivers using a sleeper berth from 2 hours to 4 consecutive hours; permitting within defined parameters, the averaging of on-duty and off-duty time over a 48 hour period; reducing the number of available work/rest cycles from three to two: a maximum 70-hour cycle over 7 days and a maximum 120-hour cycle over 14 days; for drivers who wish to switch or reset cycles, requiring a minimum of 36 consecutive hours off-duty before resetting the clock to zero for the 70-hour cycle and a minimum of 72 consecutive hours off-duty for the 120-hour cycle; and requiring a minimum 24-hour off-duty period, at least once every 14 days for all drivers. (Published in the Canada Gazette Part I on February 15, 2003)

Motor Vehicle Transport Act, 1987

Regulations Amending the Canadian Aviation Regulations (Part VI), to make a number of changes, including include changes to section 605.33 (Flight Data Recorder and Cockpit Voice Recorder Requirements) and the associated standard. Upon introduction of the Canadian Aviation Regulations (CARs) in October 1996, section 605.33 expanded the requirements for Flight Data Recorders (FDRs) and Cockpit Voice Recorders (CVRs) which had been in force under pre-CARs regulations. Because of the increased coverage, this regulation was promulgated with a delayed implementation date. For certain aircraft operated under Part VII (Commercial Air Services), the implementation date for the requirements of section 605.33 did not occur until February 28, 1997. For other aircraft affected by this requirement but not operated in a commercial service, the implementation date was July 31, 1997. Because of the delays in implementation and of the different implementation dates for different operations, the wording of section 605.33 was such as to ensure that, until the implementation dates had passed, there was no regulatory gap and that regulations which pre-dated the CARs continued to apply to the relevant aircraft. The complexity needed to ensure that pre-CARs regulations were in effect until the delayed implementation dates and, after those dates, the new regulations applied to the intended aircraft created sufficient ambiguity to make interpretation of this regulation difficult. The implementation dates have now passed and the proposed amendment is intended to clarify the application of this regulation. (Published in the Canada Gazette Part I on February 15, 2003)

Regulations Amending the Copyright Regulations, Regulations Amending the Industrial Design Regulations, Regulations Amending the Trade-marks Regulations (1996), and Rules Amending the Patent Rules, to increase fees and make some administrative changes. The changes to the Patent Rules will: support certain proposed fee changes and establish a basis for the international search (ISA) and international preliminary examination (IPEA) services which will be offered by CIPO to Canadian patent applicants; provide a safeguard to applicants and patentees who unsuccessfully attempt to pay a fee; permit a priority claim based on a filing in a regional office, such as the European Patent Office which represents several European countries; and clarify the definition of a basic patent application to distinguish it from a more specialized, reissue application. Amendments to the Copyright Regulations will: clarify the deemed receipt date of physical and electronic correspondence. This will ensure the timing of receipt of each type of correspondence is considered equally; require requests for registration of an assignment or licence of a copyright to be in writing; remove certain references to "inches" and retain references to metric measurement; clarify that a fee is not charged for correction of clerical errors committed by the Registrar. ## Proposed Regulations

FINANCE

Canadian Payments Association By-law No. 1 - General, to deal with the CPA's general administration and management and include provisions dealing with CPA banking arrangements, the duties and responsibilities of CPA directors, officers and employees, the structure and duties of CPA committees, procedures for meetings, and membership requirements. The key change in the new by-law is that it sets out the framework of the CPA's Stakeholder Advisory Council (Council), which was formally created under the Canadian Payments Act. (Published in the Canada Gazette Part I on March 22, 2003)

Canadian Payments Act

Canadian Payments Association By-law No. 2 - Finance, to consolidate and replace the CPA's existing by-laws dealing with financial issues and penalties. The by-law covers with how members' dues are calculated and paid, and includes provisions dealing with the CPA's budget, membership dues, the reassessment and reimbursement of dues, and penalties. The main change to the Finance By-law is that it increases the minimum membership dues from $1,000 to $10,000. The new by-law also includes formulas for calculating different types of costs, which are not currently included in the existing by-law. The formulas help provide more clarity concerning the CPA's dues collection process. In addition, the Finance By-law also includes a few other technical changes dealing with the reimbursement and reassessment of dues, fees for services, amalgamation of membership, and penalties for failure to pay dues. (Published in the Canada Gazette Part I on March 22, 2003)

	Regulations Amending the Insider Reports Exemptions (Banks) Regulations, to amend the existing regulations to exempt an insider from having to file insider reports with the Office of the Superintendent of Financial Institutions (OSFI) if such reports have already been filed with any of the provincial or territorial securities commissions or if the insider has obtained a filing exemption from the appropriate securities commissions. (Published in the Canada Gazette Part I on March 22, 2003)	Bank Act
	<h3>FISHERIES</h3>
	Regulations Amending the Quebec Fishery Regulations, 1990 and the Aboriginal Communal Fishing Licences Regulations, to clarify and adjust certain administrative provisions of the Regulations and to make changes to close times and gear restrictions in a number of areas of the province so as to better manage fishing activities in those areas. In addition, a number of administrative amendments are proposed which will correct editorial and typographical errors in the Regulations. An administrative amendment is also proposed to the Aboriginal Communal Fishing Licences Regulations (ACFLR) to take into account the creation of the Société de la faune et des parcs du Québec. The current definition of "Minister" in the ACFLR refers to the Minister of Environment and Wildlife for Quebec. This provincial Ministry no longer exists and, therefore, the definition of "Minister" will be amended to refer to the new Minister responsible for the Act respecting the Société de la faune et des parcs du Québec. (Published in the Canada Gazette Part I on March 22, 2003)	Fisheries Act
	<h3>JUSTICE</h3>
	Regulations Amending the Application of Provincial Laws Regulations, to provide that the choice of language for the trial made by the defendant on the offence notice, the parking infraction notice or the notice of intention to appear is equivalent to an order granted under section 530 of that Code and that the language rights referred to in paragraphs 530.1(a) to (h) of the Criminal Code apply to the trial and any other part of the proceeding. It provides that where a defendant who has not made any choice but who requests at the commencement of the trial that it be conducted in his or her official language, the court may either proceed with the trial in the official language of the defendant or adjourn the trial and fix a new date where it will resume in the language of the defendant. It provides also that the language rights of the defendant and the powers and duties of the justice of the peace and provincial court judge under section 530 of the Criminal Code and the language rights found in paragraphs 530.1(a) to (h) of that Code apply to proceedings under Part III of the Provincial Offences Act of Ontario. Furthermore, this amendment clarifies also the nature of the services and communications to the public in the context of contraventions being processed under Ontario's regime. (Published in the Canada Gazette Part I on March 22, 2003)	Contraventions Act
	<h3>TAX CHANGES</h3>
	Continuation of Amalgamated or Merged Corporations Regulations, to identify Parts 5 and 6 of the Act as "prescribed purpose," which means that corporations that have amalgamated or merged are still liable under Parts 5 and 6 even though they have formed a new corporation. Part 5 deals with General Provisions concerning Duty and Other Amounts Payable and Part 6 contains the Enforcement provisions. (Published in the Canada Gazette Part I on March 22, 2003)	Excise Act, 2001

Losses of Bulk Spirits and Packaged Alcohol Regulations, to detail the prescribed circumstances under which the excise duty that is imposed on bulk spirits or packaged alcohol is relieved if the person responsible for them loses the bulk spirits or packaged alcohol. Specifically, they provide the circumstances under which, and the conditions that must be fulfilled: (a) for a person to cease to be responsible for bulk spirits that are lost; (b) an excise warehouse licensee to be relieved of duty on non-duty-paid packaged spirits that are lost; and (c) for an excise warehouse licensee or a licensed user to be relieved of duty on non-duty-paid packaged wine that is lost. To meet the circumstances described, the person responsible for the spirits at the time of the loss must have records that substantiate the loss. The relief of duty on bulk spirits and non-duty-paid packaged alcohol provided for by these Regulations ensures that persons are not required to remit duty on alcohol that is lost due to acceptable manufacturing practices, and that is never entered for consumption or taken for use due to circumstances outside of their control. (Published in the Canada Gazette Part I on March 22, 2003)

Excise Act, 2001

Regulations Relieving Special Duty on Certain Tobacco Products, to replace the Export Tax Exemption Regulations (Tobacco Products), made under the provisions of the Excise Tax Act. (Published in the Canada Gazette Part I on March 22, 2003)

Excise Act, 2001

Regulations Respecting the Fees for the Examination of Instruments and the Provision of Tables, to set out the fees to be paid to the Canada Customs and Revenue Agency (CCRA) for the examination and certification of instruments to be used in the determination of alcohol content for the purpose of calculating the amount of duty to be imposed. (Published in the Canada Gazette Part I on March 22, 2003)

Excise Act, 2001

Regulations Respecting the Possession of Non-duty-paid Packaged Alcohol, to designate the classes of persons who may transport packaged alcohol on which the excise duty has not been paid. Packaged alcohol is defined in the Act to mean packaged in a container of a capacity of not more than 100 litres or in a marked special container for delivery to a registered user or a bottle-your-own premises. (Published in the Canada Gazette Part I on March 22, 2003)

Proposed Regulations

ENVIRONMENT

Off-Road Small Spark-Ignition Engine Emission Regulations, to spark-ignition engines developing no more than 19 kW (25 hp). These engines typically use gasoline fuel but liquefied petroleum gas or natural gas can also be used. Small spark-ignition engines are typically found in lawn and garden machines (hedge trimmers, brush cutters, lawn mowers, garden tractors, snow-blowers, etc.); in light-duty industrial machines (generator sets, welders, pressure washers, etc.); and, in light-duty logging machines (chainsaws, log splitters, shredders, etc.). The proposed Regulations, under Part 7, Division 5 of the Canadian Environmental Protection Act, 1999 (CEPA 1999), establish Canadian emission standards aligned with those of the United States (U.S.) Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) rules for small spark-ignition engines. The proposed Regulations will apply to engines of the 2005 and later model year. (Published in the Canada Gazette Part I on March 29, 2003)

TAX CHANGES

Regulations Respecting the Information to be Displayed on Alcohol Containers and their Packaging, to detail the prescribed information that an alcohol licensee is required to display on a container of alcohol that it packages. The information prescribed by these Regulations is the name and address or the licence number of the alcohol licensee who packaged the alcohol. This information will assist in the administration and enforcement of the Act by identifying the origin of the alcohol. These Regulations closely resemble the existing Guidelines for Distillery Operations - Labels to be Used on Bottled Spirits under the Excise Act. The existing guidelines also require the pre-approval of all labels to be placed on a container of spirits; this practice will not be continued under the Excise Act, 2001. (Published in the Canada Gazette Part I on March 29, 2003)

Excise Act, 2001

Return of Packaged Alcohol to an Excise Warehouse Regulations, to set out the criteria under which packaged alcohol that was removed from an excise warehouse can be returned to that excise warehouse. Licensed users are authorized under their licence to use bulk or non-duty-paid packaged spirits or wine in an approved formulation, the production of vinegar, the fortification of wine or the blending of spirits and wine where the finished product is spirits. In the case of imported spirits, a special duty of $0.12 is imposed on imported spirits delivered to a licensed user. This special duty replaces the current duty under section 2 of Part I of the schedule to the Excise Act and these Regulations will prescribe the conditions under which a refund of the special duty can be refunded on returned imported packaged spirits for use by licensed users. Registered users are organizations such as hospitals, universities and research facilities authorized under section 16 of the Act to use non-duty-paid packaged spirits for research, medicinal and scientific purposes. (Published in the Canada Gazette Part I on March 29, 2003)

TRANSPORTATION

Pacific Pilotage Regulations, amendment, to provide a series of new definitions in sections 2, 4 and 5 of the Regulations dealing with Experience at Sea, and Certificates issued by recognized marine establishments have been streamlined for greater clarity in the description of qualifications prerequisites for an applicant to a pilot license or a pilotage certificate. Sections 2, 4 and 5 of the Regulations are also affected by recent revisions to the Canada Shipping Act. (Published in the Canada Gazette Part I on March 29, 2003)

Proposed Regulations

ENVIRONMENT

Assessor's Rules of Procedure, to replace the current rules, correct problems in the old rules and streamline and modernize the appeal process for appellants and for the Assessor. The proposed new Rules, unlike the present Rules, explicitly allow for the cross-examination and re-examination of witnesses, the exclusion of affidavit evidence except with the consent of the party against whom the affidavit is tendered, and flexibility in the interpretation of the Rules and the scheduling of hearings. The amendment to Part LXII relaxes one of the requirements for being a prescribed stock option share. More specifically: Part II of the Regulations sets out circumstances under which information returns are required to be made; Part XLVIII of the Regulations prescribes, among other things, persons who are permitted to invest in tax-exempt pension investment corporations; Part L of the Regulations exempts certain entities, including qualified limited partnerships (QLPs) and specified international finance trusts (SIFTs), from being treated as foreign property for purposes of the foreign property limit in Part XI of the Income Tax Act (the Act); Part LXII of the Regulations sets out, among other things, requirements for an employee stock option share to be a prescribed share and, thus, be eligible for the stock option deduction under paragraph 110(1)(d) of the Act; Parts LXXXIII and LXXXV of the Regulations contain rules relating to registered pension plans (RPPs). ## Proposed Regulations

AGRICULTURE

Canada Grain Regulations , amendment, to make substantive or housekeeping nature. Substantive changes include setting the maximum shrinkage allowances at licensed primary elevators to zero and repealing the 90-day payment regulations. Other changes are of minor significance; for example, amendments to update, provide clarification, improve readability, and ensure consistency of form and language. (Published in the Canada Gazette Part I on May 31, 2003)	Canada Grain Act

ENERGY

Energy Efficiency Regulations , amendment, to require gas fireplace dealers to certify their products for energy efficiency using a recently published Canadian Standards Association (CSA) CSA P.4.1-02 Testing Method for Measuring Annual Fireplace Efficiency (CSA P.4.1) and report the information to Natural Resources Canada (NRCan). This will enable NRCan to produce an EnerGuide Appliance Directory for Gas Fireplaces, a directory that will be similar to existing ones for major household appliances to help consumers make an informed decision when purchasing a gas fireplace. (Published in the Canada Gazette Part I on May 31, 2003)	Energy Efficiency Act

FOOD AND DRUG

Regulations Amending the Food and Drug Regulations (1354 — Picolinafen) , to establish a Maximum Residue Limits (MRL) for picolinafen of 0.05 parts per million (p.p.m.) in barley and wheat. (Published in the Canada Gazette Part I on May 31, 2003)	Food and Drugs Act

Regulations Amending the Ship Station (Radio) Technical Regulations, 1999, to update the technical requirements for VHF digital selective calling (DSC) equipment, modify the inspection requirements for ship stations, and make some editorial corrections. The change to the technical requirements for VHF radio installations with DSC (VHF-DSC) will allow ships that are not Safety Convention Ships to fit a Class D VHF-DSC radio complying with the test requirements of the new International Electrotechnical Commission's Standard IEC 62238. The Regulations currently allow Class D VHF-DSC radios that comply with the European standard EN 301 025. Radio equipment compliant with the IEC standard will have some features that may be desirable for ships engaged in maneuvering, such as lower level audible alarms. This change will add a new paragraph (c) to subsection 16(2) of the Ship Station (Radio) Technical Regulations, 1999. (Published in the Canada Gazette Part I on May 31, 2003)

FOOD AND DRUG

Regulations Amending the Food and Drug Regulations (1236 - Transglutaminas), to permit the use of the transglutaminase enzyme obtained from Streptovorticillium mobaraense strain S-8112 to enhance the texture and strength of the unstandardized foods (prepared fish products, cheese products, cream and processed cheese products, simulated meat products, yogurt and frozen dairy desserts) at a level consistent with Good Manufacturing Practice. (Published in the Canada Gazette Part I on June 21, 2003)

Food and Drugs Act

JUSTICE

Firearms Marking Regulations, to establish requirements for the marking of firearms being imported to Canada by individuals and businesses and of all firearms manufactured in Canada. The markings would consist of a country code, "CA", and either, in the case of newly manufactured firearms, the name of manufacturer and serial number, or, with respect to imported firearms, the last two digits of the year of importation. Markings are, subject to certain exceptions for rare or very valuable firearms, to be put on the receiver, and to be visible without the need to disassemble the firearm. The Chief Firearms Officer or Registrar may place a condition on licences, particularly manufacturing licences, or authorizations to import to require markings of firearms. (Published in the Canada Gazette Part I on June 21, 2003)

An Act respecting firearms and other weapons

Regulations Amending the Authorization to Export or Import Firearms Regulations (Businesses), to streamline the requirements for businesses that require an authorization to export such that permits to export issued under the Export and Import Permits Act by the Minister of Foreign Affairs and International Trade will be deemed authorizations to export for the purposes of the Firearms Act. Where the Registrar issues an authorization to export, the requirements are further streamlined in order to remove the requirement that a bar code containing descriptions of the goods be placed on the packaging of the goods to be exported. Instead, a copy of the bill of lading will be sufficient for identification at the time of export. The same modifications are being made with respect to goods being imported by way of an authorization to import issued by the Registrar. Since it is often the case that serial numbers will not be known until the goods have been imported, the Regulations are amended to permit a business to import firearms and report the serial number after importation. A description of the goods must still be provided. The Regulations also provide for the issuance of an authorization to import to permit the importation of slides, cylinder, bolts, breech blocks and barrels by businesses. An offence provision for importing these parts without such an authorization has also been created by the amendments. (Published in the Canada Gazette Part I on June 21, 2003)

An Act respecting firearms and other weapons

Regulations Amending the Authorizations to Carry Restricted Firearms and Certain Handguns Regulations; Regulations Amending the Shooting Clubs and Shooting Ranges Regulations; and Regulations Amending Authorizations to Transport Restricted Firearms and Prohibited Firearms Regulations, to remove a reference to certified mail since this mode of transmission is no longer available. Notices of refusal and of revocation of the authorizations will continue to be able to be sent by registered mail or by courier. The amendments also define the term "prohibited handgun" for the purposes of interpretation of the Regulations. (Published in the Canada Gazette Part I on June 21, 2003)

An Act respecting firearms and other weapons

Regulations Amending the Conditions of Transferring Firearms and other Weapons Regulations, to remove the provisions dealing with approval of non-restricted firearms transfers and of business-to-business transfers by Chief Firearms Officers. Changes are also being made to verification requirements, such that non-restricted firearms being transferred to individuals will only need to be verified where the current registration certificate contains incomplete or inaccurate information. A section providing for designation of verifiers by the Registrar is also being added. In addition, amendments are being made to reflect changes to section 26 of the Firearms Act such that municipalities will now be able to acquire firearms. (Published in the Canada Gazette Part I on June 21, 2003)

An Act respecting firearms and other weapons

Regulations Amending the Firearms Fees Regulations, to adjust various fees, including adjusting fees for non-residents to reflect cost of living increases. Business licence fees are grouped into new categories by activity and adjusted to reflect the new business licence terms, as amended in the Firearms Act: three years for all businesses (other than businesses that sell ammunition only, for which the term is now five years). Since some businesses may be given a term less than the maximum of three (or five) years, the Regulations will allow pro-rating of those fees at an annual rate. Registration fees for commencement-day firearms are being repealed in favour of one fee for all registration certificates, whether the firearm is acquired by transfer or newly imported. (Published in the Canada Gazette Part I on June 21, 2003)

An Act respecting firearms and other weapons

Regulations Amending the Gun Shows Regulations, to streamline the process for obtaining sponsorship approval and reduce the amount of information to be reported by the sponsor to the Chief Firearms Officer of the province. In addition, the amendments clarify when the Regulations apply and remove the requirement that the sponsor obtain a business licence authorizing them to hold the show. (Published in the Canada Gazette Part I on June 21, 2003)

An Act respecting firearms and other weapons

Regulations Amending the Firearms Licences Regulations, to add renewal provisions for firearms licences. The requirements on renewal will be identical, regardless of whether the individual wishes to renew a possession only licence or a possession and acquisition licence, and can be summarized as follows: applicants will provide a current photo, have their applications signed by a reference, and include information about their current spouse. In addition, individuals who presently hold a possession only licence or a minors' licence will no longer have a 28-day waiting period before a possession and acquisition licence can be issued to them. The Regulations are also being amended to permit non-resident minors who frequently visit Canada to obtain a minor's licence. This is consistent with the way in which non-resident adults are treated under the Regulations. Modifications are also being made to the Regulations in accordance with the Modernization of Benefits Act, which is not yet in force. The amendments define "spouse" for the purposes of spousal notice as a person to whom you are married in law or at common law or someone with whom you have been living in a conjugal relationship for less than one year. With respect to businesses, coordinating amendments to those made to the Firearms Act are being proposed to provisions dealing with issuance of carrier licences, which will now be the sole responsibility of the Registrar. Also, prescribed purposes for businesses that possess prohibited firearms are being added to allow businesses caught with inventories of prohibited handguns that have become grandfathered by virtue of the amendments to the Act to sell them to properly licensed, grandfathered members of the public. Other prescribed purposes, such as the keeping of a bonded warehouse are also being added. Persons related to a business are being limited to family members who have either a direct influence on the operations of a business or those who could have access to firearms. Minor amendments with respect to the mode of transmission of notices of refusal and revocation are being made to reflect that Canada Post no longer offers certified mail service. Notices of refusal and of revocation of the authorizations will continue to be sent by registered mail or by courier. (Published in the Canada Gazette Part I on June 21, 2003)

An Act respecting firearms and other weapons

Regulations Amending the Firearms Registration Certificates Regulations, to modify the verification requirements to allow newly imported firearms to be verified after their entry into Canada but before a certificate is issued. (Published in the Canada Gazette Part I on June 21, 2003)

An Act respecting firearms and other weapons

Regulations Amending the Importation and Exportation of Firearms Regulations (Individuals), to streamline temporary firearms exportation requirements such that non-residents and residents alike will not be required to stop and declare their firearms at the border on exiting the country. (Published in the Canada Gazette Part I on June 21, 2003)

An Act respecting firearms and other weapons

Regulations Amending the Public Agents Firearms Regulations, to allow the Registrar will be able to issue more than one agency identification number to an agency that requests more than one number in order to better track its inventory of firearms. agents publics. The changes would also reduce reporting for the Canada Customs and Revenue Agency (CCRA) to insure that no double-reporting is done by the Agency. The amendments also clarify when transfers between agencies and imports and exports have to be reported to the Registrar, in order to limit reporting of temporary movements of firearms. (Published in the Canada Gazette Part I on June 21, 2003)

An Act respecting firearms and other weapons

Regulations Repealing the Non-Prohibited Ammunition Transfer Document Regulations, to repeal the transitional regulation which was no longer required effective January 1, 2001. As of January 1, 2001, all individuals were required to hold a firearms' licence and to produce that licence when purchasing or otherwise acquiring ammunition. No other form of identification was legally acceptable as of that date. (Published in the Canada Gazette Part I on June 21, 2003)

Proposed Regulations

CORPORATE AFFAIRS

Regulations Amending Certain Regulations Made under the Canada Post Corporation Act (Miscellaneous Program); Regulations Amending the Armed Forces Postal Regulations; Regulations Amending the Letter Mail Regulations; and Regulations Amending the Undeliverable and Redirected Mail Regulations, to increase the rates of postage for domestic letter items other than the basic domestic letter rate (Lettermail items up to 30 g), effective January 12, 2004. Other rate increases would include: a $0.02 increase to $0.98 (2.1 percent) on the basic domestic oversized letter rate (100 g or less); a weighted average increase of 3.0 percent for all other domestic letter rate changes. Canada Post also proposes to combine the prices for the two categories of "Non-Coded Lettermail" ("up to 30 g" and "from 30 g up to 50 g") as a first step in the eventual elimination of the Non-Coded Lettermail product, scheduled for the next expected rate action in 2005. At that time, customers would migrate to "Other Lettermail up to 100 g." Currently, the price is $0.62 for Non-Coded Lettermail "up to 30 g" and $0.88 for Non-Coded Lettermail "from 30 g up to 50 g." These amendments propose a common price of $0.80 for both categories of Non-Coded Lettermail effective January 12, 2004. Canada Post also proposes to modify the existing Return to Sender process contained in the Undeliverable and Redirected Mail Regulations. The Corporation's ability to decide the manner in which undeliverable items are handled will allow it to address and the secure destruction of mail items as appropriate, as it pertains to Addressed Admail, Incentive Lettermail and Publications Mail. The proposed amendments make consequential, minor amendments to the Undeliverable and Redirected Mail Regulations. (Published in the Canada Gazette Part I on June 28, 2003)

Canada Post Corporation Act

Regulations Amending the International Letter-post Items Regulations (other regulatory amendments); Regulations Amending the Materials for the Use of the Blind Regulations; Regulations Amending the Special Services and Fees Regulations; and Regulations Amending the International Letter-post Items Regulations (rates increases), to increase the rates of postage for international letter items destined to the United States and other international addresses, effective January 12, 2004, and to complete the rationalization of international letter-post products with those offered domestically. In the case of the rate increases, the basic rate for letters and postcards (up to 30 g) to the U.S. would increase to 80 cents and to other international destinations to $1.40. The changes require amendments to the Special Services and Fees Regulations and the Literature for the Blind Regulations. (Published in the Canada Gazette Part I on June 28, 2003)

Canada Post Corporation Act

ENVIRONMENT

Pulp and Paper Effluent Regulations, amendment, to streamline and improve the current regulatory framework and are designed to increase clarity and direction to the regulatees and regulators. They do not impose stricter allowable discharges, nor will they impose a need for mills and off-site treatment facilities to expend additional costs for pollution prevention and control measures. The changes would also merge the Port Alberni Regulations with the Pulp and Paper Effluent Regulations. The Port Alberni Regulations would be revoked when the proposed Regulations come into force. (Published in the Canada Gazette Part I on June 28, 2003)

ENVIRONMENT

Comprehensive Study List Regulations, amendment; Exclusion List Regulations, amendment; Inclusion List Regulations, amendment; and Law List Regulations, amendment, to ensure that the previous functional link, between the nuclear regulatory legislation and the federal EA legislation, is maintained and replicated. If the amendments to the regulations were not proposed, certain licencing decisions of the Canadian Nuclear Safety Commission would be deemed by the Interpretation Act to be an EA triggers under the Act. Because of changes in terminology, criteria and parameters brought about by the NSC Act and its regulations, there are some slight variations in the proposed EA regulations. These variations reflect minor differences between the nuclear regulatory regime under the AEC Act and the regime under the NSC Act. For example: new threshold criteria, in the Inclusion List Regulations, to reflect revised radiation protection concepts in the NSC Act; the addition to the Inclusion List Regulations of projects explicitly identified in the NSC Act, e.g. activities relating to a nuclear-powered vehicle; the addition to the Inclusion List Regulations of a reference to unsealed nuclear substances being stored at a particular location; and; the removal of certain unrelated licencing authorizations that were previously referenced in the Law List Regulations alongside relevant licencing provisions. For example, the revocation or suspension of a licence for a uranium mine is not retained as an EA trigger, but the amendment of the terms of a uranium mine licence is retained as a trigger. ## ENERGY

Regulations Amending Certain Regulations made under the Nuclear Safety and Control Act, to include into the Packaging and Transport of Nuclear Substances Regulations (PTNSR) the latest version of the International Atomic Energy Agency's (IAEA) Regulations for the Safe Transport of Radioactive Material (IAEA Regulations), 1996 edition (revised), No. TS-R-1 and to make two consequential amendments to the General Nuclear Safety and Control Regulations (GNSCR). The changes would update existing references made to the IAEA Regulations throughout the PTNSR and introduce a number of new requirements, such as Type C packages for air transport of large quantities of nuclear substances and the certification of a new type of nuclear materials called Low Dispersible Radioactive Materials. (Published in the Canada Gazette Part I on July 26, 2003)

Nuclear Safety and Control Act

FINANCE

Regulations Amending Certain Regulations Made under the Proceeds of Crime (Money Laundering) and Terrorist Financing Act, to amend the Suspicious Transaction Regulations and the Proceeds of Crime (Money Laundering) and Terrorist Financing (PCMLTF) Regulations to streamline and clarify the regulatory requirements, as well as reduce the compliance burden of reporting entities in certain situations. Among other proposed changes would be a reporting exemption in situations involving passengers and crew members of cruise ships that stop in Canada, but who do not have Canada as their final destination; this exemption is similar to an existing exemption for cargo ships. (Published in the Canada Gazette Part I on July 26, 2003)

Proceeds of Crime (Money Laundering) and Terrorist
Financing Act

FISHERIES

Newfoundland Fishery Regulations, amendment, to improve the organization of the regulations and to consolidate all recreational fishing restrictions into one area of the regulations. More specifically, the proposed amendments would: revise the existing quota table to integrate close times and establish length limits for each fish species targeted by recreational anglers and refocus this table to a by-species management regime from a by-waters system; improve the flexibility of trout management by setting out in the table individual quotas (daily, annual and possession), close times, length limits for each species of trout; consolidate and reword gear restriction provisions to ensure clarity; and replace the former provincial name "Newfoundland" with the new official name "Newfoundland and Labrador". (Published in the Canada Gazette Part I on July 26, 2003)

Fisheries Act

Yukon Territory Fishery Regulations, amendment, to improve the administration and management of territorial fisheries and the conservation of freshwater fish stocks, including: adding provisions to deal with fee reciprocity with Alaska for sport fishing licences; adjusting the one-day fishing fee for non-Yukon residents to $10; specifying a daily catch quota for Tatlain Lake; adjusting catch, possession and size limits for certain trout species; establishing catch and possession limits for burbot and least cisco; adding and deleting waters where only barbless hooks are permitted; and reorganizing/updating the List of Game fish. It also clarifies the nature of the services and communications to the public in the context of contraventions being processed under Ontario's regime. This amendment replaces the amendment that was published in Part I of the Canada Gazette, on March 22, 2003. (Published in the Canada Gazette Part I on July 26, 2003)

Export Development Canada Exercise of Certain Powers Regulations, amendment, to remove the $10-million ceiling for foreign project investment and to calculate the 25-percent limit on a fully diluted basis. The amendment also clarifies that there is no requirement for Governor in Council approval in situations where EDC acquires an equity interest other than through a transaction where EDC makes an intentional equity investment in order to assist a Canadian exporter or exporters. The amendment sets out a list of such situations in section 2: they include the payment of stock dividends, other in kind distributions, amalgamations or similar action, settlement of a debt or claim, or restructuring or other similar workout arrangements. ## INTERNATIONAL TRADE

Ships' Stores Regulations, amendment, to reflect changes to the Excise Act, 2001 and to respond to a Federal Court of Appeal decision. More specifically, the Regulations are being amended to ensure that duty and tax relief for ships' stores used on tugs, ferries and passenger ships operating on the Great Lakes and lower St. Lawrence River is provided only to the extent that the ships' stores are consumed on vessels engaged in international trade. To that effect, the current definition of "inland waters ship" is being amended and a number of new related definitions pertinent to ships' stores relief for maritime vessels are being added. The Regulations are also being amended, as a result of the Excise Act, 2001, to replace the words "tobacco products" with "domestic or imported cigars and domestic stamped manufactured tobacco or imported manufactured tobacco", to reflect the new excise regime limitations, to incorporate by reference definitions included in other excise legislation, and to replace the word "eaux-de-vie" with "spiritueux" in the French version, to mirror the French terminology used in the Excise Act, 2001. (Published in the Canada Gazette Part I on October 11, 2003)

Also, the compulsory pilotage waiver provisions in section 5 would be restructured and expanded to include dredging and underwater engineering work. The certificates required under section 12 by an applicant for a licence or pilotage certificate would be updated to reflect current certification nomenclature. The outdated statutory declaration provision respecting the issuance of a pilotage certificate, contained in subsection 12(3), would be removed as paragraph 4(1)(c) of the Regulations currently serves the same purpose for Canadian officers trading regularly within the Great Lakes region. The provisions contained in section 13 relating to the knowledge required by an applicant for a licence or pilotage certificate would be considerably expanded to provide greater detail of the subject content of applicants' examinations. In addition, various paragraphs within section 13 would be amended to make reference to the new legislative framework applicable to ports under the Canada Marine Act. Also, the reference to the outdated Rules of the Road for the Great Lakes has been removed as these Regulations were revoked in 1983. Pilotage Act

Natural and Man-made Harbour Navigation and Use Regulations, to deal with the navigation and use, including the safety of persons and ships, within the navigable waters of a natural and man-made harbour that are designated by the Governor in Council and, more specifically, of Esquimalt harbour (at the present time). Transport Canada proposes to later seek the designation of the navigable waters of Nanoose Bay. (Published in the Canada Gazette Part I on October 11, 2003)

Canada Marine Act

Public Ports and Public Port Facilities Regulations, amendment, to adjust regulatory authority over anchorage areas currently located outside of the Esquimalt public port limits. Since these anchorage areas are currently located within the limits of the Victoria public port limits, its limits are being adjusted accordingly. In addition to the change in the public port limits of Victoria, a mechanism to remove Esquimalt from the Regulations has been added. This will allow for its public port status to be repealed and permit TC to reduce its regulatory responsibility at the port. Identical provisions with respect to Nanoose Bay have also been included in this amendment because the navigable waters in Nanoose Bay will be designated under section 104 and transferred to the Defence Department subsequent to the transfer of administration of the Esquimalt harbour bed. Lastly, coming into force provisions have been added which will allow for a seamless transition from the public port designation to the navigable waters of a natural and man-made harbour designation. 	Regulations Amending the Coastal Fisheries Protection Regulations , to implement the new Port Access Policy. They entail removing the list of countries from the Regulations and add a list of criteria for granting access to individual foreign fishing vessels. Under these amendments to the CFPR, the Minister will also evaluate licence applications by individual foreign fishing vessels and will not issue a licence to vessel if there are reasonable grounds to believe that: (a) the vessel is not licensed or otherwise authorized by its flag state to engage in fisheries activities; (b) the vessel is not in compliance with or has undermined relevant conservation and management measures ("relevant" includes Canadian measures as well as those of fisheries management organizations); (c) the vessel has provided supplies to any foreign fishing vessel that is not in compliance with relevant conservation and management measures; (d) the proposed activity is not compatible with and will undermine relevant conservation and management measures; or (e) the proposed activity is not consistent with sustainable use of fisheries resources or will contribute to excess harvesting or processing capacity. INTERNATIONAL TRADE
	Regulations Amending the Certification of Origin of Goods Exported to a Free Trade Partner Regulations; Regulations Amending the Exporters' and Producers' Records Regulations; Regulations Amending the Free Trade Agreement Advance Rulings Regulations; Regulations Amending the Imported Goods Records Regulations; Regulations Amending the Refund of Duties Regulations; Regulations Amending the Tariff Item Nos. 9971.00.00 and 9992.00.00 Accounting Regulations; and Regulations Amending the Temporary Importation (Tariff Item No. 9993.00.00) Regulations , to propose changes to reflect the new Canada-Costa Rica Free Trade Agreement (CCRFTA) provisions of the Customs Act and to implement commitments made by Canada in that Agreement. (Published in the Canada Gazette Part I on October 25, 2003)	Customs Act
	CCRFTA Verification of Origin Regulations , to describe the process to be followed by Canadian officials to verify claims for preferential tariff treatment under the CCRFTA. Such activities may include sending a letter or questionnaire to the exporter or producer of the goods or may take the form of a verification visit. (Published in the Canada Gazette Part I on October 25, 2003)	Customs Act
	Regulations Amending the Proof of Origin of Imported Goods Regulations , to detail the proof of origin requirements contained in Article V.2 of the Canada-Costa Rica Free Trade Agreement Implementation Act, (CCRFTA). These added requirements have been blended with the proof of origin criteria for the North American Free Trade Agreement (NAFTA) and the Canada-Chile Free Trade Agreement (CCFTA). As well, these changes prescribe the time and place for providing proof of origin for the purposes of claiming the benefit of preferential tariff treatment under the CCRFTA, while maintaining the same requirements for the purposes of the NAFTA and the CCFTA. (Published in the Canada Gazette Part I on October 25, 2003)	Customs Act

Regulations Amending the Canadian Computer Reservation Systems (CRS) Regulations; and Regulations Amending the Designated Provisions Regulations, to lessen the current regulatory requirements associated with the use of the Computer Reservation Systems by airlines and travel agents and to recognize that greater reliance on market forces and the Internet in the distribution system could work to minimize the costs of distribution and sales for airlines. More specifically, sections 6 to 8 of the current Regulations, concerning the system participation requirements for obligated carriers, are being repealed due to the emergence of the Internet as an alternative distribution channel, which is providing market discipline through competition and other market forces. As a consequence, the defined term "obligated carrier" is also repealed. Airlines would no longer be obligated to participate in all CRS operating in Canada. The definition of "consumer" in section 2 would be repealed and references to the term "consumer" would be removed from the defined terms "display", "service enhancement" and "system" in section 2. Internet displays of air travel information will not be subject to regulation because comparison shopping by consumers on different travel Web sites appears to provide the necessary market discipline. Sections 23, 27, 28, and 36 would also be repealed. The Designated Provisions Regulations, which detail administrative monetary penalties for contraventions to provisions of the Aeronautics Act, and therefore to the Regulations would be amended in accordance with the proposed repeal of provisions in the CRS Regulations. ## TAX CHANGES

Regulations Amending the Income Tax Regulations (2002 Drought Regions), to prescribe drought regions for 2002. The proposed changes will allow farmers in the prescribed drought regions to defer income from sales of breeding livestock in 2002 until a subsequent year. The portion of the sale proceeds which can be deferred by a farmer increases with the percentage of the farmer's breeding livestock which has been sold. In this manner, the tax deferral program is targeted at those farmers most severely disadvantaged by drought conditions. (Published in the Canada Gazette Part I on November 8, 2003)

VETERANS AFFAIRS

Regulations Amending the Veterans Health Care Regulations, to extend housekeeping and grounds maintenance services for survivors (i.e. surviving spouses and surviving common-law partners) of veterans who died between September 1990 and June 2002 and who were receiving those services at the time of their death. The scope of the present change also includes survivors of veterans who were receiving the services within the year prior to their death but for whom the services were interrupted because of admission to a health care facility. In addition to veterans, the amendment also applies to survivors of the following groups of clients who may have received VIP services at the time of their death: merchant navy veterans, special duty service pensioners, military service pensioners (former members of the Forces entitled to a pension under the Pension Act for disability related to military service other than in war time and in special duty service) and former members of certain civilian groups. The proposed amendment would extend certain VIP services to persons who were voluntary primary caregivers of a veteran and lived with the veteran. The proposed amendment would also stipulate that the needs of the survivor or other caregiver are to be assessed initially within one year after the veteran's death and on a periodic basis thereafter. Alternatively, the initial assessment may be conducted at a later date, provided it is based on evidence relevant to the period of the veteran's death. This provision will apply equally to those survivors currently eligible pursuant to the present Regulations, and to those whose eligibility is being extended as a result of the amendment. # Proposed Regulations

IMMIGRATION

Regulations Amending the Immigration and Refugee Protection Regulations, to amend sections 2 and 13 and subsection 10(2) of the Immigration and Refugee Protection Regulations, to encourage the immigration consulting industry to self-regulate. These amendments are intended to protect applicants from unscrupulous representatives while preserving the integrity of Canada's immigration system. More specifically, the proposed amendments would: define the meaning of "authorized representative"; specify that a fee-charging person who is not an authorized representative may not provide immigration advice, represent or consult; require applicants using authorized representatives to submit contact information, the name of the organization referred to in the definition "authorized representative," and their identification or membership number, if any, for verification purposes; and permit a person who is not an authorized representative to continue to provide advice, represent or consult for up to four years after the Regulations come into force if they were providing representation for an application that was submitted before the new Regulations came into force. The proposed amendments would allow Citizenship and Immigration Canada and the Immigration and Refugee Board to deal only with members in good standing of Canadian Society of Immigration Consultants (CSIC) or of a provincial and territorial law society. A transition period of four years is proposed so as not to unduly penalize applicants or their representatives who, prior to the Regulations coming into force, already have their applications in the system. This transitional period has been determined according to processing times which, in some complex cases, can be quite lengthy. Further to these amendments, another amendment is also proposed to the expression "authorized representative" used in the context of sponsorships [R117(1)(e)(iii)]. This expression has been replaced by "a person authorized by a sponsor." This change is necessary as there is no connection between the definition of "authorized representative" used in the context of immigration consultants and the sponsorship process. This change is technical in nature and has no consequence on the sponsorship process. (Published in the Canada Gazette Part I on December 13, 2003)

Immigration and
Refugee Protection
Act

FISHERIES

Gully Marine Protected Area Regulations, to designate "The Gully", a deep canyon ecosystem on the edge of the Scotian Shelf near Sable Island, as a Marine Protected Area pursuant to the Oceans Act. (Published in the Canada Gazette Part I on December 6, 2003)

Oceans Act

Regulations Amending the Northwest Territories Fishery Regulations, to require the use of barbless hooks for sport fishing through-out the Northwest Territories (NWT); to establish daily catch and possession limits for bull trout and burbot; to change the current "no limit" provision for cisco to a specific daily catch and possession limit (350); and to close waters at the mouth of the Buffalo River to fishing for inconnu during those periods when stocks of the fish are present. (Published in the Canada Gazette Part I on Dec. 13, 2003)

TRANSPORTATION

Regulations Amending the Small Vessel Regulations, to incorporate the Construction Standard for Small Vessels (TP 1332) into the Regulations, as well as require the carriage of safety equipment. In addition, the Regulations are being amended to require all passenger vessels over five tons gross tonnage operating beyond the limits of a home-trade voyage, Class IV, or a minor waters voyage, Class II, within the meaning of the Home-Trade, Inland and Minor Waters Voyages Regulations, to carry life rafts for the total complement on board. (Published in the Canada Gazette Part I on December 6, 2003)

Canada Shipping
Act

Regulations Amending the Canadian Aviation Regulations (Part I), to revise two sections of Part I General Provisions of the Regulations. The proposed amendment to section 103.06 Notices of Suspension, Cancellation or Refusal to Renew would introduce a new document to be used when notifying an applicant for a Canadian aviation document (CAD) or for an amendment to a CAD of the Minister's refusal to issue or to amend the relevant document. The proposed amendments to section 103.08 Designated Provisions would reflect changes to the procedures by which the Transportation Appeal Tribunal of Canada (TATC) is to be notified of the assessment of a monetary penalty for an alleged contravention of a regulation. As well, the title of section 103.06 is to be modified and minor editorial changes are proposed for section 103.08. (Published in the Canada Gazette Part I on December 13, 2003)
